BLOW YE THE TRUMPET.

AIMEE SEMPLE MCPHERSON

What are you doing with your trumpet? Is it giving a certain or an uncertain sound?

Gideon put a trumpet in every man's hand, . . . and said unto them, . . . "When I blow the trumpet, I and all that are with me, then BLOW YE THE TRUMPETS ALSO, ON EVERY SIDE OF THE CAMP.

Jesus by the Holy Spirit has placed a trumpet in the hand of every true child of God, and expects us to blow the trumpet today as never before. Each trumpet bearer is responsible for the way they use or misuse their trumpet, and responsible for the sounds that issue therefrom, whether certain or uncertain, whether false or true. Paul says "If your trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to battle?" What are you doing with your trumpet for Jesus? Are you sounding a sure and certain sound of alarm in His holy mountain? Are you crying aloud the soon coming of Jesus, and the necessity of being ready to meet Him? Are you sending forth notes of victory and praise? Are you preaching the fullness of God's Word? Or, are you compromising, and fearful? Are there waverings of doubts and fears in your heart that cause your trumpet to send forth an uncertain sound?

Sometimes we may think that our trumpet is so small, so insignificant that it does not matter much one way or the other about our little trumpet. Amidst so many other trumpets, bigger trumpets perhaps, held in more capable hands, we are tempted to imagine that no one is going to notice the sounds sent forth from our trumpets; but the trumpet in the obscure and isolated corner is just as important, yea, sometimes of more importance than those in the busy marts and thoroughfares.

You are responsible. Your family is listening. Your neighbor is listening. The Community you live in is listening; and if you as God's watchman, you whose eyes have been opened to these latter rain truths, fail to blow the trumpet, their blood shall be upon your head. You are responsible. God has placed you where you are, right in that family, that neighborhood, that mission or church for a definite purpose. Lift up that hand that has been hanging idle, BLOW THE TRUMPET.

There are many things to be spoken through the Gospel trumpet, but the greatest messages of the day are salvation, the baptism of the Holy Spirit, and the soon coming of Jesus. These messages should resound to all about you with no uncertain sound.

Salvation from all sin, through the blood of Jesus, Holiness unto the Lord without which no man shall see God, a pure holy, clean, spotless life lived low at Jesus feet under the precious blood:

The Baptism of the Holy Spirit, with the bible evidence of speaking with other tongues as the Spirit gives utterance according to Acts 2:4, and a walking on in the Spirit with His fruits manifest in our lives:

The Soon Coming of Jesus, the fulfillment of Bible prophecy, the signs of the times, the separation and preparation of the Bridal Body; these are the messages which are of paramount importance and should fill the most important place today.

Blow ye the trumpets on every side of the camp; let the message ring forth clear and strong. Jesus' coming is near at hand, the time is short. Let us send forth the last sweet Bridal Call to all about us, then some day, very soon, our heavenly Gideon, our captain Jesus will descend from heaven with a shout as of a trumpet, and all the faithful trumpeters will be gathered home to glory, trumpets and all where we shall send forth trumpet notes of praise and glory forevermore. Blow ye the trumpet, look about just now and tell some one the message of salvation, the baptism, and soon coming of Jesus. March 16, 1918.
